Amazing Precision

The publication, "Missouri Conservationist" is in print with the information that "In the past 10 years the United States has sacrificed 100,000,000 fish to pollution." And that's a real job. Not the sacrificing, but the reckoning.

Ten years ago, in the 1960 census, the nose-counting team went out on its job, and with all the facilities available—and the people at hand—still overlooked an estimated 5,000,000 of them. But according to the publication quoted, pollution's fish toll is precisely 100,000,000. It's not the figure but the precision that astounds—especially on the part of a State whose nickname is "Show Me."

Maybe they just measured the smell and multiplied by 1970.—Nashville (Tenn.) Banner

Tokyo's Ordeal With Smog
For a glimpse of how the pollution "chain reaction theory" works, take a look at last weekend in Tokyo. When the thermometer hit 98.6 degrees, millions of Japanese took to the roads to find relief from the choking air pollution. The exhaust of their autos and motorbikes thereupon worsened conditions.

Before the ordeal was over, 60 persons had drowned, 41 were dead in traffic and uncounted thousands had been hospitalized with lungful of oxidants or damaged eyes.

Japan is an example of the mixed blessings of a heavily industrial economy. Although Tokyo has been for centuries one of the most congested areas in the world, it was only after World War II, and especially during the last 15 years, that so many Japanese were able to afford cars and cycles.

Now that they're catching up with affluent America, some Japanese may take a wistful look at what they're leaving behind.—Orlando (Fla.) Sentinel

Court Will Hear Dispute Over Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to hear the dispute over Sen. Vance Hartke's razor-thin election victory over former Rep. Richard L. Roudebush.

Roudebush, a Republican, who lost the Senate race to Democrat Hartke by 4,283 votes, and Indiana's attorney general, Theodore L. Sendak, had been blocked by a federal district court in Indiana in seeking a recount.

The Supreme Court, in a brief order, granted the request for a hearing. This will be held sometime next term.

A key question is whether the federal court in Indianapolis improperly stepped into state court proceedings on Indiana election laws. The federal court declared portions of the laws unconstitutional as applied to Senate races.

The Hartke-Roudebush race was the closest Senate election in Indiana history. Hartke's margin was slightly more than one vote a precinct. He is now serving his third term in the Senate.

Hartke was sworn in Jan. 21. At that time, however, the Senate agreed with a proposal by Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Ind., that Hartke was taking the oath "without prejudice to the outcome of any appeal pending in the Supreme Court."

Roudebush had gone into Indiana courts after the election to demand a recount in 464 precincts scattered through 11 counties. Hartke countered with a challenge to the state recount law, arguing it interfered with the powers of the U.S. Senate to determine contests over Senate elections.

State Police Investigate Two Accidents

Arkansas State Police reported investigating two accidents in Hempstead over the weekend. The first occurred Saturday night on the Saratoga-Millwood Lake road when a pickup driven by John R. Smith of El Dorado went out of control on a curve and overturned.

State Policeman Wallace Martin said Smith received only minor injuries. He was charged with driving too fast for condition of the road.

Sunday an auto driven by Betty Ruth Jordan went out of control on curve entering Ozan struck two parked cars and a light pole. There were nine persons in the car.

State Policeman Wallace Martin said an elderly man listed as H. Walker was perhaps the most seriously injured. He lost an ear. Others in the auto suffered cuts and bruises but none were believed serious.

Betty Ruth Jordan was charged with driving without a license and going too fast for condition of the road. Her husband, Melvin Jordan, was charged with permitting a person to drive his car without proper license, Trooper Martin said.

Nixon-Mills Relations No Action Always Cool Are Now Against Gls Refusing Order

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Relations between President Nixon and House tax chief Wilbur D. Mills, cooling for weeks, have dropped near the freezing point.

The temperature plunge follows Nixon's criticism of aspects of the Social Security programs.

Despite Mills' repeated denials the skid in relations with the White House is keeping speculation alive that he may not be altogether discouraging efforts to promote him as a possible 1972 Democratic opponent to Nixon.

After Mills, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, went to unusual lengths to help pass increased Social Security benefits for this year and raise the payroll tax base next year, Nixon criticized the combination and called for an im-

Second Music Channel Added to Hope Cable

A second channel of FM music for television sets has been added to the Hope cable television system, it was announced today.

Donald L. Haynes, local manager of Hope Community TV, Inc., said the company recently added FM music on Channel 13. He said the new channel would provide a variety of music, including popular and classical, while the format of music on Channel 9 of the cable system would remain country-western. Channel 9 also provides local Hope weather 24-hours daily on the cable television system.

Haynes said the new addition was the result of many requests by cable television subscribers for a larger variety of FM music on their television sets.

Hope Community TV carries a full spectrum of FM for radios.

Landing Closed at Paraloma for Repairs

The access road to the Paraloma Landing public use area on Millwood Lake on Little River in southwestern Arkansas will be closed beginning March 22 for required maintenance.

Col. Vernon W. Pinkey, Tulsa District Engineer, said Army Engineers will repair the road from where it begins on public property to the Paraloma Landing parking area which also will be repaired. He said the road would be open March 27-28 to allow weekend traffic to reach the lake.

He said the Engineers regret having to close the road but the repairs must be completed before the start of the recreation season if dependable access to the area is to be maintained.

The repair work on the road and public use area parking will take about two weeks weather permitting.

Wants Poverty Program Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Carlucci, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, called today for a two-year extension of the antipoverty agency despite Nixon administration plans to shift most of its programs to other agencies.

In testimony prepared for the House Education and Labor Committee, Carlucci said the two-year extension would assure continued federal representation for the poor.

"Congressional action on the government reorganization of revenue sharing proposals will have a significant bearing on the future direction" of the OEO, he said.

And, Carlucci said, those proposals "deserve and will receive a full public airing and intensive congressional debate."

The two-year extension, introduced in the House last Thursday and in the Senate the following day, is designed to keep the antipoverty agency alive until Congress acts on the OEO reorganization proposals, portions of which have not yet been formulated.

President Nixon, in statements over the past two years, has indicated he wants to sever all the action programs created by the Johnson administration, leaving OEO a research agency. Many liberals contend this would undermine the government's antipoverty effort.

Current programs expire June 30.

Hope Students at University Increasing

By RALPH ROUNTON
A record number of 15 Hope High graduates are now enrolled as second-semester freshmen at the University of Arkansas campus in Fayetteville.

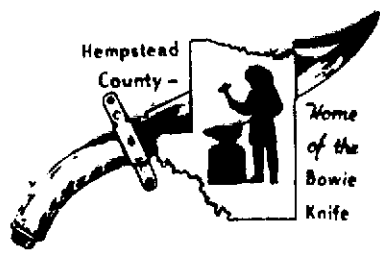

This number relates a sharp increase from past years, when the number of new students from HHS at the U of A rarely surpassed five in number.

Seven of these freshmen were among the 1970 honor graduates at Hope High. They include valedictorian Jimmy Alford, Judy Croon, Dan Stuart, Connie Hendrix, Ralph Rounton, Mary Ella Impson and Justin Caldwell.

This group alone was given a total of $2,450 in scholarships for the U of A.

Other HHS graduates of 1970 now in Fayetteville are Bruce McRae, David Rowe, Doug Byrd, Ronnie Gibson, Jimmy Armstrong, Phil Cato, Tina Martin and Belinda Butler. Of this group Ronnie Gibson won the statewide $3,200 scholarship awarded by Meyer's Bakeries.

Overall, the Fayetteville campus of the University of Arkansas reports a present enrollment of slightly over 11,000 students, with over 16,000 total in all units statewide.

Hopes Laos Invasion Has Damaged Enemy's Ability to Wage War

By J.T. WOLKERSTORFER

SAIGON (AP) — With South Vietnamese troops now in chaotic retreat from Laos, the best that military and political analysts in Saigon can hope for is that the campaign did as much damage to North Vietnam's ability to wage war in the south as last spring's Cambodian incursion.

More than eight months after the allied drive, it is evident that the enemy's capacity for offensive operations in the

Senate at Crucial Stage Over SST Bill

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is nearing its crucial moment on the supersonic transport with 11 uncommitted votes the key to the future of the government-subsidized airliner.

Debate begins Tuesday with the vote scheduled Wednesday afternoon. It will be a close one.

"I imagine this lobby they talk about will go into high gear," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

At issue is a $134 million appropriation to continue through June 30 the federal subsidy for construction of two SST prototypes.

The House already has rejected the SST funds, 215 to 204. If the Senate agrees, the project will be doomed, at least, as Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott put it, for the time being.

Scott said he did not know what President Nixon might do later.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., suggested the administration might already have put aside funds to continue research work on the SST whatever the congressional outcome.

"I think it may be voted down by two or three votes, but on the other hand I doubt if that stops the work..." said Aiken, who has been opposed to the SST subsidy.

"... I presume they've got the money laid away in a corner somewhere which would be enough to continue research work on the SST," Aiken spoke on a Metromedia Radio interview.

Aiken noted the military, which is not involved in the SST, has made a practice of getting appropriations that permit a project to continue without dependence on annual Congressional appropriations.

No explanation was given by the court as it turned down Michael Weissman of St. Louis, who was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000 for tearing his Selective Service registration card and handing it to a policeman. Had he won the vote of one more justice his case would have been heard.

Weissman's petition to the Supreme Court said the government admitted in lower court arguments that he was prosecuted because the act occurred during an antiwar demonstration.

Says Cities Need More Help

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers told the Arkansas Wildlife Federation that cities need more money than counties for ecological reasons.

He said Saturday that many county officials were upset because his administration had requested more money for cities than counties.

Cities need the money because of a growing waste problem, the governor said, not to hire more policemen and firemen.

Laos Retreat Under Heavy Enemy Fire

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — More South Vietnamese forces retreated from Laos today under heavy North Vietnamese attack, and Saigon announced that 10,000 men had been withdrawn.

A South Vietnamese spokesman, Lt. Col. Tran Van An, said 12,000 government troops were still in Laos and that they now hold three fire bases.

Field reports said the drive was nearing end and that the strength actually was below 12,000 troops.

An said the westernmost South Vietnamese units in Laos are now eight miles from the Vietnamese border, more than 17 miles from their point of deepest penetration.

The Saigon command claimed that more than 12,000 Hanoi troops have been killed in the six-week-old drive to cut the Ho Chi Minh trail network.

But the South Vietnamese admitted heavy losses themselves: 1,031 killed, 219 missing and 3,985 wounded, a total of 5,325 casualties, or about 25 percent of the 22,000-man invasion force.

As the South Vietnamese returned to South Vietnam by U.S. helicopter or made their way overland, artillery duels raged across the border and U.S. warplanes exchanged missiles with batteries in North Vietnam.

Two South Vietnamese infantry battalions hurrying to the border ran into strong North Vietnamese forces south of Highway 9 and suffered 52 men killed and 80 wounded, field reports said. A South Vietnamese communique issued in Saigon claimed 245 North Vietnamese troops killed.

Low clouds fog and enemy artillery slowed down U.S. helicopters trying to lift South Vietnamese forces out of Laos.

There were still stragglers to be picked up south of Highway 9. Most of the South Vietnamese paratrooper division was pulled out along Route 9 but four battalions were moving eastward along the highway with an armored column and remnants of two other battalions.

North Vietnamese guns firing from caves and mountains in Laos poured more than 100 rockets into a South Vietnamese ranger command post along the border.

Parochial School Aid Allowed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today allowed Connecticut to resume aid to parochial schools in the state.

In a 6-3 action the court temporarily stayed an injunction by a federal court in Hartford which blocked the assistance on a finding it is unconstitutional.

Some $6 million had been earmarked for 263 schools in Connecticut, 217 of them operated by religious bodies, most of them Roman Catholic. Church officials had said that without the assistance many schools would have to cut down their operations or close.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Potter Stewart, Byron R. White, Thurgood Marshall and Harry A. Blackmun granted the plea for continued aid at least until the Hartford court's ruling is appealed.

Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and John M. Harlan dissented. At the same time the court rejected a move to speed consideration of the appeal.

The high court currently has under advisement three cases testing various forms of federal and state support for parochial school operations.

The three-judge court in Hartford found the Connecticut support system violates the First Amendment's provision separating church from state. The case was started by six Connecticut taxpayers represented by the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union. Later the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People joined the suit.

The state law gives nonpublic schools a percentage of the salaries of teachers of secular subjects as well as money for textbooks.

west corner of South Vietnam. Shortly after that a helicopter made a forced landing behind the abandoned command vehicle, but the crew of the chopper removed safely.

About 8:30 p.m., Bravo Troop was ordered to move forward again to secure the helicopter and the command vehicle, but the men refused to go. Hill was informed and sent the squadron commander, Lt. Col. Gene L. Breeding to talk to the men. He spoke with the men of the two platoons but 53 of them—not including their officers or platoon sergeants—still refused to go forward.

HOPES LAOS (From Page One)

southern half of South Vietnam has been considerably reduced. Sitting in his office in the Mekong delta, Maj. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong—one of South Vietnam's ablest commanders—says confidently:

"I don't expect any more big battles. We have taken the initiative away from the enemy and we intend to keep it."

"All our regular forces are right in the middle of the last four or five major enemy bases in the delta, and they're staying there."

"Our regional and popular forces are conducting saturation operations in every district and village in the delta to neutralize local guerrillas and political cadre."

"Last week, in a four-day operation throughout the delta, militia units killed 1,010 Viet Cong neutralized, 335 were members of the political infrastructure."

Gen. Truong expects the pattern of enemy activity in 1971 to be politically motivated terrorist attacks, kidnappings, shellings and sapper attacks on small militia units.

Senior American officers in the delta concede that the enemy still has a limited offensive capability enough to overrun a district town temporarily—but agree with Truong that he is incapable of mounting a sustained offensive.

The reason, they say, is that operations in Cambodia and the exclusion of North Vietnamese and Chinese traffic from the port of Kampong Som have almost cut the enemy's supply lines.

The North Vietnamese holed up in the Seven Mountains area and the U. Muih forest are virtually cut off. Their commanders have been told to expect reinforcements and supplies, but they can see only a trickle is getting through.

Bumpers, Aide Mixed Up on Sales Tax

CHARLESTON, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Sunday that he had been unaware that an aide had written a group of Blytheville teachers telling them he would not veto an increase in the state's sales tax.

Bumpers again said that he was opposed to an increase in the sales tax and would veto such a measure.

He said his opposition was strengthened because the legislature had passed his income tax increase. He said that many legislators voted for his measure because they had been assured that there would be no increase in the sales tax. To increase the sales tax now, would be a breach of trust, the governor said.

A letter was released Saturday written by Charles D. Matthews, the governor's legislative aide, telling the Blytheville Teachers Association the governor would not veto an increase in the sales tax.

Matthews' letter also told the group to write to their legislators urging them to push for the measure.

Matthews could not be reached for comment. He is on vacation until Sunday.

The governor said he had not seen the letter written by the Blytheville teachers to him, which prompted Matthews' reply. He also said he had not seen Matthews' letter.

"At no time was it discussed in staff meeting or in personal conversation," the governor said.

Bumpers said the incident was an "unfortunate thing" and must have resulted from a "breakdown in communication."

The governor said the first time he heard about the letter was Saturday through another of his aides.

Matthews' had told the Blytheville group to write their legislative delegation and Joe Musick, president of the organization, said they did.

Rep. Walter Day of Blytheville was one of those who received the letter. He said Sunday that the letters of both Matthews and the teachers had made him angry.

He said that the teachers had accused the delegation of not working for education, which Day said was not true.

Water Line Sale Voided by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that a majority of the owners of a private water main could not sell it to the city of Center Hill over the protest of a substantial minority of the owners.

The unanimous opinion written by Associate Justice George Rose Smith came in a test case from Greene County Circuit Court.

The high court upheld a declaratory judgment by Judge Charles Light of Paragould, denying the majority's power to sell the water main.

In 1958, the owners of about 40 tracts of land lying along Arkansas 25 west of Paragould signed a "water line agreement" under which they banded together to install a private water line for their own use.

By 1969, a total of 311 patrons were being served by the line and assets of the venture included the water mains, a large storage tank, pumps, real estate and more than $12,000 in cash.

The city sought that same year to create its own water distribution system and applied for a $620,000 federal loan, but a condition to the loan was that the city own its water mains, which meant Center Hill would have to acquire the private line.

Center hill proposed that the assets of the line, including the $12,000 in cash, be transferred to the city in return for $75,000 in second mortgage bonds, which would bear no interest, would be subordinate to the federal agency's first mortgage for $820,000 and would be payable only from the city's water revenues.

Patrons of the private water line considered the proposition and 185 voted for the sale to the city, 48 voted against, and 78 did not vote after it had been explained that a failure to vote would be counted as a vote against the sale.

"The water line agreement contains no provision conferring upon a majority of the members the power to sell the assets," Smith wrote. "We liken the proposed sale to a situation in which a majority of a group of tenants in common might claim the right to sell the entire property at a price of their own choosing and in disregard of the protest of the minority members of the group."

Smith also said that the protesting landowners would, under the terms of Center Hill's offer, be required to pay the water revenues "so that they would in effect be required to take part in buying their own property from themselves."

In other cases, the Supreme Court:

—Dismissed the appeal of Lloyd Henry Byrd and Calvin Ford from a voluntary manslaughter conviction in Jefferson County Circuit Court because they filed a transcript rather than an application for appeals to the high court.

—Affirmed the burglary and grand larceny conviction of J. C. Warren in Benton County Circuit Court despite Warren's contention that he should be freed because the evidence showed only $93.60 had been taken and he was charged with stealing $154.

D.C. to Name Non-voting Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital will elect Tuesday a delegate to Congress with all the prerogatives of any congressman except the right to vote.

The heavy favorite to win the newly created post is the Rev. Walter E. Fauntroy, a black Democrat and civil rights leader who promises to use "raw naked power" against the "devils on that hill."

The question is how much "raw naked power" can be summoned by a congressman without a vote?

In the view of Jorge L. Cordova of Puerto Rico, a nonvoting delegate can have influence but only if he moves with the rate of an experienced diplomat.

Puerto Rico has had a non-voting delegate for the past 70 years and Cordova, a 63-year-old former judge, was elected to the post in 1968, the candidate of the pro-statehood New Progressive party.

mediate tax raise. Only about a week earlier the President bluntly rejected a Japanese industry offer, largely brought about by Mills, for voluntary restrictions on textile exports to avoid quotas.

While Mills would not reply publicly to Nixon on Social Security, he told associates the President already is running against the Democratic Congress and will denounce its actions at every opportunity.

Mills, accustomed to being thanked by presidents for banking about viable compromises, already had experienced considerable frustration before encountering Nixon's recent reactions.

His success in the House last year with a Nixon-approved welfare reform bill was canceled in the Senate.

Trade legislation he steered through the House met a similar fate.

Starting over in the new Congress, Mills considered he was working with the administration when he proposed a package deal—the controversial welfare reform plan combined with the popular Social Security increase.

But this plan depended on quick committee action. Instead, the process dragged on for weeks, with Mills and others blaming the administration for slowness in coming up with technical information and policy positions.

Yielding to pressure for a separate Social Security benefit increase, Mills reluctantly agreed to a shortcut in the form of a Senate rider to a bill raising the national debt limit.

Nixon had recommended a 6 per cent Social Security benefit increase and a tax raise in 1971. The Senate version was 10 per cent and the tax increase not until 1972.

Hope School Golfers Split Two Matches

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Whipped by Camden Friday, the Hope Bobcat golf team traveled to Fordyce on Saturday morning and handed the Red-bugs an 11½-6½ loss.

Although Fordyce had the medalists of the match with a 79, by Bobby Baker, their number one man forfeited three points by not being able to play.

In single matches, Jimmy Pruden lost to Baker, but Jerry Pruden beat Paul Gray 2-1, and Tim Hogan beat Allen Dobson 2½-½, to provide most of the margin of victory.

Earlier, on Friday, HHS golfers took a 14-4 licking, at the hands of the Camden Panthers.

Led by freshman medalist Red Jordan, with a 75, the Panthers wound up with a 309 total strokes score compared to 326 for Hope.

Jack Turner led Hope with a 78, followed by Jimmy Pruden with an 80, Jerry Pruden with an 82, and Tim Hogan with an 86.

Hope's record is now 1-1 for the season and they play Magnolia, here, on Friday with a B-match also scheduled.

'Poor Kansas' Tag Just Not Appropriate

By ROBERT MOORE

Associated Press Sports Writer WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Don't put the "poor Kansas" tag just yet on the nation's fourth-ranked basketball team whose next foe is mighty UCLA.

Kansas Coach Ted Owens wouldn't think of saying his Jayhawks haven't a chance against the top-ranked Bruins when the clubs collide Thursday night in the NCAA semifinal at Houston.

In fact, if a comparison of scores means anything, it could be a cliffhanger from start to finish. Kansas downed Missouri three times, once by 35 points. UCLA beat Missouri in their only meeting.

UCLA reached the Houston semifinals by nipping Long Beach State 57-55 Saturday. Kansas gave Long Beach his first of five defeats, winning 69-52 and at one point held a 32-4 lead over the Californians.

Kansas has won so many of its 21 straight triumphs in the final seconds the Jayhawks ought to qualify for a patent on late victories. Each of Kansas' last six games has been won in the last minute or less.

The Jayhawks reached the top behind to beat Drake 73-71 Saturday to win the Midwest Regional. Two days earlier, Kansas edged Houston 78-77 to reach the regional finals.

Deron Johnson

WATCHING: Chris Short, 33, and hampered by injuries for two straight years, and Jim Bunning, 39, are best of staff. Bunning was 10-15 in 1970 and was biggest winner on staff, with 14-14 record. Phils expect and need big things from Barry Lersch. Bullpen, however, is sound with Dick Selma, Woody Fryman and Joe Hoerner. Rating: C-

WATCHING: Tim McCarver and Mike Ryan both were injured in the last game last year. McCarver hit .287 in abbreviated season and will go starting job back. Rating: C

WATCHING: Deron Johnson, at first, best power hitter on club. He had 22 home runs and 93 RBIs last season. Double-play combination of Danny Delle (208 at second) and Larry Bowa (250 at shortstop) impressive with gloves, but not bats. Veteran Tony Taylor can't be counted on if Delle doesn't improve. Money is at third after hitting .295 with 14 homers and 66 RBIs last year. Rating: B

OUTFIELD: Larry Hise and Oscar Gamble have potential, but were disappointments last season. Hise went into slump early in season and never came out of it. Gamble hit .262 but was something less than adequate defensively. Taylor only reliable recourse. Some help may come from Roger Freed, minor league player of the year last season at Baltimore of Baltimore chain. He hit .334 with 24 homers and 130 RBIs last year. Rating: C

WATCHING TO WATCH: Young pitchers Ken Reynolds (24) and Bill Fischer (22) could become starters if they show anything at all.

Predicted Finish: 4th in East

UCLA Meets Kansas in Playoff

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer UCLA, the No. 1 team in college basketball, plays at the Astrodome in Houston Thursday night for the first time in three years. That could be a bad omen for the Bruins in their bid for a fifth straight national championship.

It was at the Astrodome on Jan. 20, 1968 that the Bruins' 47-game winning streak was snapped by the Houston Cougars 71-69 before an all-time paid basketball crowd of 52,693.

It was UCLA's only defeat that season and it kept the Bruins from breaking San Francisco's all-time collegiate winning streak of 60 in a row since they won 41 straight after that.

The occasion for UCLA's return to the Astrodome is the semifinals of the NCAA championship tourney. The Bruins play the Kansas Jayhawks and the Villanova Wildcats take on the Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky.

UCLA, Kansas and Western Kentucky had to rally to win their quarter-final games last Saturday. Villanova, to the surprise of virtually everyone, enjoyed a 90-47 romp over previously unbeaten Penn, which had won 28 straight.

UCLA wiped out an 11-point deficit in the second half to beat Long Beach State 57-55 on four free throws by Sidney Wicks in the last 25 seconds.

Kansas, also down by 11 at one point, rallied to defeat Drake 73-71 and Western Kentucky came from 14 points back to trip Ohio State 71-68 in overtime.

Dave Robisch, 6-foot-11 Kansas star who may be paired against the 6-8 Wicks, sparked the Jayhawks against Drake with 27 points, including the go-ahead basket at 63-61.

The 7-foot Jim McDaniels scored 31 points for Western Kentucky, but it was Rex Bailey who saved the Hilltoppers from defeat by Ohio State in regulation time. He sank a 15-footer with 12 seconds left for a 69-63 tie.

The Ohio Valley Conference champs won in the overtime on Clarence Glover's four points and three vital rebounds in the last 59 seconds.

Villanova opened a 25-point lead early and hit a blazing 62 per cent from the field in its romp over Penn. Howard Porter led the attack with 35 points.

"We did nothing right," lamented Penn Coach Dick Harter.

The NCAA championship final at the Astrodome will be played Saturday at 4 p.m. EST, between Thursday's winners and will be nationally televised by NBC.

Marquette, Fordham, Houston and Pacific won the four NCAA regional consolation games while North Carolina, Providence, Duke, Tennessee and Georgia Tech won the five first-round games that marked the opening Saturday of the National Invitation Tourney in New York.

Marquette trimmed Kentucky 91-74, Fordham downed South Carolina 100-90, Houston whipped Notre Dame 119-106 and Pacific shaded Brigham Young 84-81.

North Carolina overwhelmed Massachusetts 9-49, Providence beat Louisville 64-58, Duke overcame Dayton 68-60, Georgia Tech held off LaSalle 70-67 and Tennessee shaded St. John's of New York in overtime 84-83.

Two more first round games in the NIT were played Sunday with Michigan beating Syracuse 82-76 and St. Bonaventure downing Purdue 94-79.

The NIT continues with a tripleheader tonight, a doubleheader Wednesday and the semifinals Thursday. The final Saturday at 1 p.m. EST, will be nationally televised by CBS.

ward for UCLA's No. 1 ranked Bruins, made the difference Saturday as the defending NCAA champions barely edged by tenacious Long Beach State, 57-55.

The game wasn't decided until the final 25 seconds. With the score tied at 53-all, Wicks was fouled. Despite a tremendous din created by 14,003 fans screaming for an upset by underdog Long Beach State, Wicks made both shots.

A few seconds later, he was fouled again and iced victory with two more free shots.

Texas Tech Leading in Golf Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Catch Texas Tech will be the theme of Southwest Conference golf teams this week.

The Red Raiders took the early lead in the SWC chase last weekend with two dual match victories. Tech is idle this week in the SWC.

Texas A&M tangles with Rice and Arkansas is at TCU in conference matches Tuesday and Air Force visits SMU in a non-league match.

Two more SWC matches are scheduled Saturday when Baylor goes to Texas A&M and Arkansas is at SMU.

Tech's victories last weekend were 5½-1½ over Rice and 4-2 over Texas A&M. SMU downed TCU 5-1 in the only other SWC match Saturday.

Providence Advances in NIT Play

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Providence dives into the North Carolina pressure cooker tonight with a wounded guard and a worried coach.

"We can't be destroyed by that North Carolina pressure," Providence Coach Dave Gavitt said prior to the Friars' game against the deepest basketball club in the National Invitation Tournament.

Gavitt admitted he was concerned by the balance of the Atlantic Coast Conference team.

Dave Lewis is Providence's tough little guard and rebound power despite his 5-foot 11 stature. Lewis, who twisted his ankle March 1, isn't certain for tonight although "he's running better on the ankle now," said Gavitt.

The North Carolina-Providence contest is the second game of a tripleheader at Madison Square Garden that starts the quarterfinals of this 34th annual classic. Tennessee meets Duke in the third game.

Hawaii, making its first NIT trip, and Oklahoma, which was rubbed out in the early rounds last year, wind up first-round action in tonight's opening game.

Michigan, the first Big Ten conference club ever to play in this tournament, trimmed Syracuse 82-76 and St. Bonaventure grabbed a 94-79 decision from Purdue, another Big Ten club, in Sunday's first-round action.

The victories shot Michigan into Wednesday night's quarterfinal with Georgia Tech and St. Bonaventure into a meeting with the winner of the Hawaii-Oklahoma game.

Gavitt, whose Friars gained the quarterfinals by slugging Louisville 64-58 Saturday, admitted his club might have a little more trouble with North Carolina. Coach Dean Smith of North Carolina, who was once worried, isn't any more after Saturday's opening-round 90-49 conquest of Massachusetts.

Pitching Is Still Astro Problem

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The body's ready as far as Manager Harry Walker of the Houston Astros is concerned but when he talks about his club in such anatomical terms he freely admits he's not sure about the heart.

The heart, according to Walker, is the pitching staff. It almost died last year as the Astros, considered strong pennant contenders, finished 23 games behind the first-place Cincinnati Reds in National League West.

"Last year we tried to function without a heart," said Walker. "You can't blame the rest of the body."

The rest of the body did just fine and is expected to be even stronger with the acquisition of shortstop Roger Metzger from the Chicago Cubs, freeing Denis Menke for first base duty in an infield that also includes second baseman Joe Morgan and third baseman Doug Rader.

Metzger is considered a key addition for the Astros—he can make the doubleplay and hit .270 at Tacoma last season. If he succeeds it would add to Houston's inner defense while Menke takes his clutch bat—he led the club in batting at .304 and with 92 runs batted in—to first base.

Both Morgan, who led the club in steals with 42 and scored 102 runs, and Rader, who had his best year with 25 homers and 87 RBI, are fixtures.

The outfield has slugging Jim Wynn, a .282 swinger with 27 homers and 88 RBI in center, and in left Cesar Cedeno, a late-season rookie sensation from the Dominican Republic who hit .310 in 90 games, batted safely in 21 of the last 22 games of the season, and stole 17 bases in 21 tries.

The incumbent at the other outfield position is Jesus Alou, who hit .306 last season. But he may face a battle from Bob Watson, who has more power. Watson, who can play first and catch, hit .272 but hammered 11 homers and drove in 61 runs in 97 games last season.

The No. 1 catcher is Johnny Edwards but his bat produced at only a .221 clip last season. Hiatt figures now with an outside chance given Larry Howard, who hit .302 at Oklahoma City and then .307 in 27 games after earning promotion at the tailend of the year.

The heart, however, may not be as healthy.

Although Larry Dierker, the ace of the staff, slipped to 16-12 last season, the big question-marks are Don Wilson and Tom Griffin. Wilson, 16-12 in 1969 with his second no-hitter, had arm trouble in 1970 and was only 11-6. Griffin, 11-10 in 1969, had even more trouble, and was 3-13 with the Astros after returning from the minors.

Dierker, however, is a stand-out, and Jack Billingham, 13-9, in his second year with the Astros, seems ready to blossom. There also are such veterans around as Wade Blasingame and Denny Lemaster.

But for the Astros to be any threat to the front runners Wilson and Griffin will have to produce.

And Walker knows it.

Laver Cares Less About Seeding 4th

CHICAGO (AP) — Australia's Rod Laver probably couldn't care less over his No. 4 seeding in the Chicago phase of the 20-city World Championship of Tennis tournament which starts a week-long session today.

It's the first time since August of 1970 that Laver, whose racquet thumps a steady march to the bank, has not been accorded No. 1 seed in a tourney.

In the three-site tourney here marking the third leg of the World Championship series, the No. 1 seeded player is another Australian biggie, 1970 Wimbledon champion John Newcombe. Also seeded ahead of Laver in the hand-picked 32 man field are Arthur Ashe, No. 2; and Australia's Ken Rosewall, No. 2.

While the World Championship show is picking up again since the second leg outing at Sydney, Australia, two weeks ago, Laver last Friday night won the New York phase of the Tennis Champion Classic series to raise his 1971 earnings to $150,000.

The Classic and the World series are not connected.

The $50,000 Chicago tourney, offering a top singles prize of $10,000, will be contested during the week at sites in a schedule the sponsors hoped would park attendance.

and Chris Ford were chosen for the all-tourney team by writers and sportscasters who covered the event. Porter, who was also chosen outstanding player of the tournament, was a unanimous choice.

The Wildcats' rout of Penn Saturday was powered by Porter, who paced Villanova with 35 points.

Francesco Posts Easy Victory

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Francesco, owned by A. J. Moidell, posted an easy six-length victory Saturday in the $30,000 Razorback Handicap at Oaklawn Park.

The race was the last major tune-up for this week's Oaklawn Handicap.

The five-year-old gelding finished the 1 1/16 mile in 1:42 3/5, only one second off the track record.

Overlooked by a majority of the 25,000 fans, Francesco returned $21, $8.20 and $4.80. Great Mystery finished second to pay $4.20 and $3.80. Elegant Heir finished third to pay $4.20.

Grabbing the lead coming out of the gate was Charlie Jr., but Great Mystery was a close second going around the first turn. Jockey John Kunitake, obviously aware of the rapid pace, held Francesco three lengths behind Great Mystery going down the back stretch.

Kunitake started Francesco moving on the outside going in to the stretch turn. As Francesco took the lead going down the stretch, Great Mystery took second from tiring Charlie Jr.

Elegant Heir, with Lonnie Ray aboard and trailing the field as late as the half-mile mark, started a drive at the three-quarter pole passing Sado, the 8-5 favorite, and then Dust Commander at mid-stretch.

Jockey Lonnie Ray posted a winning double for the third day in a row. Accounting for the first half of the daily double, Ray was aboard Vagabond Flyer in the first. He also rode Swimm Hole in the fourth.

The daily double combination of Vagabond Flyer in the first and Secret Prince, ridden by Steve Richie in the second, numbers 7 and 1, paid $26.

The record-breaking crowd of 24,958 wagered $1,676,877.

Super Bowl Site to Be Discussed

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The site of Super Bowl VI changes were the major items of business as the National Football League meetings began here today without the Buffalo franchise situation clouding the air.

The Bills, who have threatened to move to Seattle if a new stadium isn't built, extended a deadline established to coincide with the beginning of the meetings when the Erie County legislature approved a proposal for a new ball park last Tuesday.

While the Bills situation undoubtedly will be discussed by the owners, any need for a definitive decision has been removed until the new deadline established for late May, paving the way for more time to be spent on other issues.

Chief among them is selecting a site for Super Bowl VI with three-time host Miami ranged against five other cities.

The other bids will come from two previous hosts—Los Angeles and New Orleans—and Dallas, Houston and Jacksonville Fla. Houston will be represented by two groups, one that wants the game for the Astro-dome and one that would like to see it in Rice Stadium.

Half a Game Is Better Than None

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Half a game is better than none where the Utah Stars, Floridians and Texas Chaparrals are concerned.

As a result of Sunday's American Basketball Association action, the Stars, Floridians and Chaps all took half-game leads in races to settle the playoff as the regular season nears its end.

Utah trounced Kentucky 123-109, the Floridians held off Memphis 109-103 and Texas whipped Virginia 129-115. In the only other game, the Carolina Cougars snapped an 11-game losing streak with a 143-136 overtime victory over Pittsburgh.

In the NBA, it was Boston 135, Cincinnati 110; Detroit 116, Chicago 111; Philadelphia 120, Baltimore 108; Portland 113, Cleveland 110; Los Angeles 101, New York 98; Seattle 119, San Francisco 106 and San Diego 132, Phoenix 114.

Utah jumped to an early lead and led most of the way except for a few seconds in the fourth period in downing Kentucky for a slim lead over idle Indiana in the first-place chase in the West Division. Merv Jackson scored 25 points and Willie Wise and Glen Combs 24 apiece for the winners.

Dan Issel had 25 and Jim Ligon 24 for the Colonels, who nosed in front 95-94 with 10:13 to play before Utah pulled away.

Paced by Ron Franz, the Floridians outscored Memphis 14-8 in the last five minutes and moved one-half game in front of beaten Pittsburgh in the race for the fourth and final playoff spot in the East. Franz scored seven of those 14 points and finished with a team high 25.

Steve Jones had 37 for the losers. Carolina took a quick lead over Pittsburgh in the overtime session. Larry Miller and George Lehmann, with 38 and 35 points, respectively, led the Cougars, who used their five starters almost all the way. John Brisker scored 33 for the Condors, including a three-point goal as time ran out to force the overtime.

Texas, paced by Gene Moore's 33 points, nudged in front of idle Denver into fourth place in the West by beating Virginia. The Chaps outscored the Squires 40-27 in the third period to seal their triumph. Joe Hamilton added 29 points.

Game Sunday Preview of NBA Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The National Basketball Association playoffs don't get underway until midweek, but a nationwide television audience may have gotten a sneak preview Sunday.

With Hal Greer scoring 23 points and Archie Clark 21, the Philadelphia 76ers defeated the Baltimore Bullets 120-108. They meet again Wednesday in the first round of the playoffs.

Elsewhere, the Los Angeles Lakers shaded New York 101-98, the Detroit Pistons beat Chicago 116-111, the Seattle SuperSonics trimmed San Francisco 119-106, the Boston Celtics routed Cincinnati 135-110, the San Diego Rockets battered Phoenix 132-114 and the Portland Trail Blazers nipped Cleveland 113-110.

In the ABA, it was Carolina 143, Pittsburgh 136 in overtime; Texas 129, Virginia 115; the Floridians 109, Memphis 103 and Utah 123, Kentucky 109.

Wally Jones' jump shot with 8½ minutes left put the 76ers in front of the Bullets to stay at lead to seven points. Kevin Loughery topped the losers with 24 points.

Clutch baskets by Fred Hetzel and Rick Roberson enabled the Lakers to beat New York for only their third win in 11 games since losing super star Jerry West with an injury. Gail Goodrich scored 29 points and rookie Jim McMillan 24 for the Lakers.

Detroit blew a 15-point lead in the fourth period but rallied to defeat Chicago on baskets by Terry Driscoll, Howard Komives and Erwin Mueller in the final 1½ minutes. Dave Bing scored 18 points for the Pistons and finished with a team record 2,213.

Seattle ran off 12 straight points midway through the last period to turn back San Francisco. Dick Snyder had 21 points but Tom Meschery and Barry Clemens clinched the triumph with three late baskets apiece.

Saturday's scores: Baltimore 124, Philadelphia 112; Chicago 138, Atlanta 121; Phoenix 114, Seattle 107; Cleveland 114, Detroit 103 and Portland 132, Buffalo 129 in overtime.

Texas Aggies Lead SWC in Baseball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Texas Aggies have gained the Southwest Conference baseball lead but lost their star outfielder Dave Elmendorf for at least five weeks.

The Aggies swept a three-game series with Southern Methodist last Friday and Saturday for a 3-0 record in early SWC warfare, but they may have lost more than they gained.

Elmendorf, a senior stalwart hitting .471, was struck in the eye by a line drive in batting practice Friday prior to the opening game with SMU.

Elmendorf suffered a fractured orbital bone around his right eye.

Elmendorf was leading the Aggies in every offensive category. He was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League and the New York Yankees of the American League.

After a three-game set with Minnesota Wednesday and Thursday, the Aggies resume SWC action on Friday with a twinbill at Rice. Other SWC series this weekend include Baylor at TCU in a battle for second place in the standings, and Texas at SMU. New Mexico Highlands is at Texas Tech beginning Friday for three games.

Only action slated today was a doubleheader between Minnesota and Texas in Austin. Three games are slated Tuesday including St. Mary's at Baylor, Minnesota at Texas and Southeast Oklahoma at TCU, all in doubleheaders.

TCU and Baylor are tied for second in league standings with 2-1 records. Texas is 3-3, Tech 1-2, and Rice and SMU, both 2-4.

Texas A&M also has the top season record at 12-1 followed by TCU, 11-6, Texas 11-7 and Tech, 11-8.

In 1862, Richard Gatling patented his famous gun, which fired 350 rounds a minute. The World Almanac recalls that Gatling, appalled by the sight of returning wounded soldiers during the Civil War, became determined to invent a weapon which would make war more terrifying and help deter the use of arms.

cholesterol content? If your cholesterol is high it may have no relationship to the hormones but it would indicate that you should be a little more careful about your diet. Frankly, I think all persons should try to regulate their diet in such a way as to prevent heart disease. This means limiting the amount of fat intake, particularly saturated fats like those found in meats, using more vegetables, fruit, uncreamed cottage cheese, nonfat dry milk powder and avoiding large amounts of cholesterol which are found in egg yolks and organ meats like the brain.

If Swallowing Is Painful

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 72 years old and have pain in my chest when I swallow my food. It doesn't want to go down. I had an X-ray a few years ago and was told I have enlarging of the heart. My doctor said not to worry because as you get older the heart tends to get a little larger. My doctor has passed away and I can't get a doctor, so I need an answer. I would like to know what that pain is it possible.

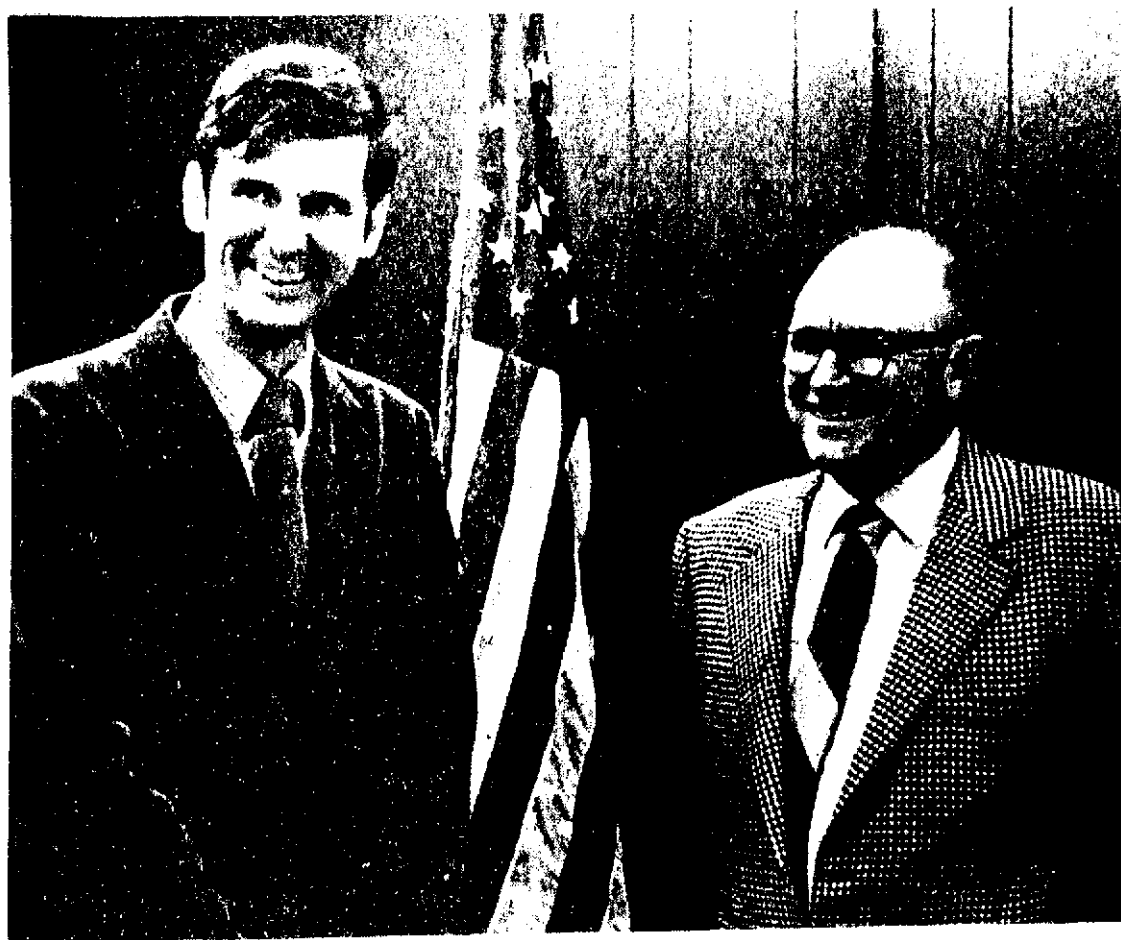

Dear Reader—The difficulty you are having in swallowing food is probably not related to your heart in any way. It is more likely caused by some mechanical obstruction in the esophagus, the digestive tube passing from the back of the throat to the stomach.

Sometimes mechanical problems are caused by

Blacks, Whites Worship at Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — The Rev. Jim Garrett of Texarkana told about 2,000 persons attending a community worship service here Sunday night that hatred, fear and suspicion must be overcome before racial tension can be ended in Texarkana.

Garrett was principal speaker at a "Unity in Christ" service sponsored by the Texarkana Ministerial Alliance. The meeting was attended by blacks and whites of all faiths from both the Arkansas and Texas side of this border city.

The meeting was planned by the alliance to help ease racial tension following several incidents, including the burning of two Negro churches earlier this month.

Five ministers, both blacks and whites, participated in the service.

Garrett described the service as a "giant rescue mission."

Union Wants Strike Ruling Overturned

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The drawn-out railroad-labor dispute reached another turning point today with a scheduled federal appeals court decision on the right of the United Transportation Union to call selective strikes.

The Court of Appeals here was asked by the union to overturn a lower court decision that a walkout called against only one or two rail firms, rather than a nationwide strike, would violate the Railway Labor Act.

The union, with all delaying provisions of the law exhausted, is free to strike all the nation's railroads, but had scheduled a strike against only two, the Burlington & Northern and the Atlantic Coast Line.

The union's selective strike strategy was an attempt to avoid an almost certain intervention by Congress if it staged a nationwide strike.

The union, representing some 200,000 trainmen, who now average about $3.50 an hour, was one of four unions that staged a last year nationwide rail strike. Congress halted the strike with a special law that

Jurors Differ on Issues in Calley Case

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The jurors trying Lt. William Calley Jr. apparently are fighting bitterly over a decision on the first of four murder counts against him. They planned, in today's sixth day of deliberations, to hear an all-day rerun of prosecution testimony.

For Calley, sweating out the verdict that will decide his future, it means listening again to the grim words of men he commanded at My Lai, relating that he coldly mowed down 30-40 civilians herded through a trail intersection.

The government charges that the lieutenant killed at least 30 there. The jury, under instructions to acquit on that count if there is reasonable doubt the killings were at that exact place, asked to rehear the testimony of 10 witnesses concerning the incident.

The readings today, by court reporters, resumed with the eighth of those witnesses.

One witness was Paul David Meadlo, a former Indiana farm boy, who said the lieutenant berated him for not having "taken care" of the trail group.

"He said, 'I want them dead,' " Meadlo testified Jan. 11 when he closed out the prosecution's case. "He told me to help him shoot them."

Meadlo also said that later, at a ditch where the government accuses Calley of having killed 70, he again shot people at Calley's orders and that the lieutenant changed magazines 10 to 15 times.

In his own testimony, Calley said he expended less than one magazine that whole March 16, 1969, when his platoon went through My Lai in an infantry assault.

The jury also requested the testimony of Charles Sledge, Calley's radio operator, and James Dursi, a rifleman. They were on the stand in early December, in the first week of the four-month trial.

The colonel, four majors and one captain on the jury gave every indication that they are stalled on the trail shootings.

Sounds of heated argument have come out of their closely guarded deliberation room. On some days they have emerged with reddened faces, not speaking to one another as they put on their ribbon-bedecked tunics.

Defense attorney George Latimer objected to their going to church Sunday "because there are some words in the Bible that cut both ways." So post chaplain Albert Ledebuhr came to their special quarters.

Russia Keeps Bolstering Egypt Defenses

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has bolstered Egypt's air defenses with about 90 more MIG21 jet interceptors since late last year, U.S. intelligence reports indicate.

The Soviets also have strengthened Egypt's force of SU7 and earlier model MIG fighter bombers which could support ground troops, Pentagon sources said.

According to recent U.S. intelligence reports, the Egyptians have 220 MIG21s, 206 MIG17s and MIG15s, and 120 SU7s.

This compares with an earlier assessment that, as of last December, Egypt's Russian-built air force owned 128 MIG21s, 150 MIG17s and 15s, and 97 SU7s.

A small force of old bombers has remained stable in numbers.

The extent of any Russian buildup of surface-to-air missiles in Egypt in recent months was not available, but as of the end of 1970, U.S. military sources said, the SAM defenses were formidable—360 SA2 launchers and 120 SA3 launchers.

The SA2 is fired at high-flying planes, the SA3 against lower flying attackers.

The increase in Egypt's military power during the months of the cease-fire has included significantly more M18 troop-carrying helicopters and huge artillery pieces as well as other equipment, the sources said.
